

As our healthcare industry rapidly evolves to address the COVID-19 pandemic, new health policies and resources especially in the areas of patient affordability, care delivery and provider reimbursement continue to be released.

That is why we have engaged Avalere, the health policy research firm, to develop and update a repository cataloging significant health policy changes. The repository will identify the topics covered with links to additional information where appropriate and will be updated on a regular basis. Please visit the COVID – 19 Guide for Patients and Providers on the Avalere site at this link.

At Janssen we have a longstanding commitment to ensuring that patients and healthcare providers are aware of developments affecting access to care, and we hope patients and providers will find Avalere’s resources useful in navigating changes brought about by the pandemic.

This service is being provided for informational purposes only and is not intended to provide reimbursement or legal advice. While Avalere has made every effort to reflect the most up to date information on the site, the information may not be as current or comprehensive when you view it due to the rapidly changing environment. Please consult with your legal counsel or advisors as we understand that resources and decisions remain the responsibility of local healthcare delivery systems, including state and local health officials, and health care providers who have direct responsibility to their patients.

I hope you find the information on the site useful. We are incredibly grateful for the work you are doing during this difficult time and are committed to supporting you, our community, and patients through the unprecedented challenge of COVID-19.
